SOLDIERS' HEIRS, ATTENTION!
The act of Congress approved March 2 1867, gives to Heirs of Soldiers who died prisoners of war,
COMMUTATION FOR RATIONS,
for the time the soldier was so held a prisoner, at the rate of twenty-five cents per day, to be paid in the following order: 1st. To the widow, if unmarried; 2d. To the children; 3d. To the parents, to both jointly if they are living, if either is dead, to the survivor; 4th. To the brothers and sisters.
The act of February 28, 1867, provides for the refunding of the $100 Commutation Money, where the same person was a conscript drafted, and was required to enter the service or furnish a substitute.
DISCHARGED SOLDIERS.
The act of March 2, 1867, also makes provisions for the payment of the $100 ADDITIONAL BOUNTY
to such soldiers as have accidentally lost their discharges
All persons having any claims under any of the above mentioned Acts, or any other kind of claim against the United States or State Governments, can have them promptly collected, by addressing the undersigned. Information and advice cheerfully given to soldiers or their friends, free of charge.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
AND
Hoofland's German Tonic.
The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts,) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated from alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,

Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.

Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

Those who have no objection to the combination of the bitters, as stated, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.

The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, as a consequence, becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fulness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, particularly one that which he is assured from his investigation and inquiries possesses true merit, is skillfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit these well known remedies—

AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,
Prepared by DR. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed many cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,

Resulting from any Cause whatever; PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, &c.

There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge indicated in the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,

And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BLESSING, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.

It is a well established fact that fully one half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; one reason, and the principal one, is, they are languid, devoid of all energy, nervous, and have no appetite.

To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN,

Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every one of MALARIOUS, without fail.

Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Above, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.

HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes:
Philadelphia, March 13, 1867.

"I find 'Hoofland's German Bitters' is a good tonic, useful in diseases arising from debility, and want of nervous action.
Yours, truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD."

HON. JAMES THOMPSON,
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
Philadelphia, April 28, 1868.

"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in cases of attacks of indigestion or dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON."

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,
Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear conviction of the merits of your German Bitters, proof in various instances in my own family, of the virtues of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.
Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates St.

FROM REV. E. D. FENDALL.

THE SCHOOLMASTER.
BY CHARLES DICKENS.

When the lessons and tasks are all ended,
And the school for the day is dismissed,
And the little ones gather around me,
To bid me good night and be kissed;
O! the Little white arms that encircle
My neck in a tender embrace;
O! the smiles that are balsom of heaven,
Shedding sunshine of love on my face.

And when they are gone, I sit dreaming
Of my childhood too lovely to last;
Of love that my heart will remember,
While it wakes to the pulse of the past,
Ere the world and its wickedness made me
A partner of sorrow and sin;
When the glory of God was about me,
And the glory of gladness within.

O! my heart grows weak as a woman's
And the fountains of feeling will flow,
When I think of the path, steep and stony,
Where the feet of the dear ones must go;
Of the mountains of sin hanging o'er them,
Of the tempest of Fate blowing wild;
O! there's nothing on earth half so holy
As the innocent heart of a child!

They are idols of hearts and of households;
They are angels of God in disguise;
His sunlight still sleeps in their tresses;
His glory still gleams in their eyes;
O! those tyrants from home and from heaven,
They have made me more manly and mild!
And I know now how Jesus could liken
The Kingdom of God to a child."

I ask not a life for the dear one,
All radiant, as others have done;
But that life may have just enough shadow
To temper the glare of the sun;
I would pray to guard them from evil,
But my prayer would bound back to myself;
Ah! a seraph may pray for a sinner,
But a sinner must pray for himself.

The twig is so easily bended,
I have banished the rule and the rod;
I have taught them the goodness of knowledge,
They have taught me the goodness of God.
My heart is a dungeon of darkness
Where I shut them from breaking a rule;
My frown is sufficient correction;
My love is the law of the school.

I shall leave the old house in the autumn,
To traverse its threshold no more;
Ah! how I shall sigh for the dear ones
That meet me each morn at the door!
I shall miss the "good night" and the kisses,
And the gush of their innocent glee,
The group on the green, and the flowers
That we brought every morning to me.

I shall miss them at morn and at eve—
Their song in the school and the street;
I shall miss the low hum of their voices,
And the tramp of their delicate feet.
When the lessons at last are all ended,
And death says, "The school is dismissed!"
May the little ones gather around me,
To bid me good-night and be kissed.

THREE BRAVE MEN.

Pretty Barbara Ferros would not marry. Her mother was in consternation.

'Why are you stubborn, Barbara?' she asked. 'You have plenty of lovers?'

'But they do not suit,' said Barbara, coolly tying back her curls before the mirror.

'Why not?'

'I want to marry a man who is brave, equal to any emergency. If I give up my liberty, I want it taken care of!'

Silly child! what is the matter with Big Barney, the blacksmith!'

'He is big, but I never heard that he was brave.'

'And you never heard that he was not. What is the matter with Ernest, the gun-smith?'

'He is placid as wool's milk.'

'That is no sign that he is a coward. There is little Fritz, the tanner, he is quarrelsome enough for you, surely!'

'He is no bigger than a bantam cock. It is little good he can do, if the house was set upon by robbers.'

'It is not always strength that wins a fight, girl, it takes brains as well as brawn. Come, now, Barbara, give these three young fellows a fair trial.'

Barbara turned her face before the mirror, letting down one raven tress and looping up another.

'I will, mother,' she said at last.

That evening, Ernest the gun-smith knocked at the door.

'You sent for me, Barbara?' he said, going to the girl, who stood upon the hearth coquettishly warming one pretty foot and then the other.

'Yes, Ernest,' she replied, 'I've been thinking on what you said the other night when you were here.'

'Well, Barbara?'

Ernest spoke quietly, but his dark blue eyes flashed, and he looked at her intently.

'I want to test you.'

'How?'

'I want to see if you dare to do a very disagreeable thing.'

'What is it?'

'There is an old coffin up stairs. It smells mouldy. They say Redmond the murderer was buried in it; but the devil came for his body and left the coffin empty at the end of a week; and it was finally taken from the tomb. It is up stairs in the room grandfather died in, and they say grandsire does not rest easy in his grave for some reasons, though I know nothing about it. Dare you make the coffin your bed to night?'

Ernest laughed.

'Is that all? I will do that and sleep soundly. Why pretty one did you think I had weak nerves?

'Your nerves will have good proof if you undertake it. Remember, no one sleeps in that wing of the house.'

'I shall sleep the sounder.'

'Good night, then. I will send you a lad to show you the chamber. If you stay till morning,' said imperious Miss Barbara, with a nod of her pretty head, 'I'll marry you.'

'You vow it?

Ernest turned straight away and followed the lad in waiting through dim rooms and passages, up echoing stairs, along narrow damp ways, where rats scuttled before to a low chamber.—The lad looked pale and scared, and evidently wanted to hurry away but Ernest made him wait till he took a survey by the aid of his lamp. It was very large and full of recesses, which had been barred across. He remembered that old grandsire Ferros had been insane several years before his death, so that this precaution had been necessary for the safety of himself and others. In the centre of the room stood a coffin, beside it was placed a chair. The room was otherwise perfectly empty.

Ernest stretched himself out in the coffin.

'Be kind enough to tell Mis Barbara it is a very good fit,' he said.

The lad went out and shut the door, leaving the young gun-smith alone in the dark.

Meanwhile, Barbara was talking with the big blacksmith in the sitting room.

'Barney,' said she, pulling her hand away from his grasp, when he would have kissed her, 'I've got a test to put you to before I give you any answer. There is a corpse lying in the chamber where my grandsire died, in the untenanted wing of the house. If you dare sit with it, all night and let nothing drive you away from your post you will not ask me in vain."

'You'll give me a light and a bottle of wine and a book to read?'

'Nothing.'

'Are these all the conditions you offer me, Barbara.'

'All. And if you are frightened, you need never look me in the face again.'

So Barney was conducted to his post by the lad, who had been instructed into the secret, and whose involuntary start at Ernest's placid face as he lay in the coffin, was attributed by Barney to the natural awe of a corpse. He took his seat and the boy left him in the darkness, the rats and the coffin.

Soon after, young Frits the tanner arrived, flattered and hopeful, from the fact that Barbara had sent for him.

'Have you changed your mind, Barbara?' he asked.

'No; and I shall not until I know if you can do a really brave thing.'

'What shall it be? I swear to satisfy you Barbara.'

'I have a proposal to make to you.—My plan requires skill as well as courage.'

'Tell me!'

'Well, in this house there is a man watching a corpse. He is sworn not to leave his post till morning. If you can make him do it, I shall be satisfied that you are as smart and as brave as I require a husband to be.'

'Why nothing is so easy! exclaimed Fritz. 'I can scare him away. Furnish me with a sheet, show me the room and go to your rest, Barbara. You shall find me at the post in the morning.'

Barbara did as required, and saw the tanner step lightly away to his task. It was then nearly twelve o'clock, and she sought her own chamber.

Barney was sitting at his vigil and so far all had been well. The night seemed very long, for he had no means of counting the time. At times a thrill went through him, for it seemed as if he could hear low suppressed breathing not far away; persuaded himself that it was the wind, blowing through the crevices of the old house. Still it was very lonely and not at all cheerful.

The face in the coffin gleamed white still. The rats squeaked as if there was a famine upon them and they smelled the dead flesh. The thought made him shudder. He got up and walked about but something made a slight noise behind him, and he put his chair with his back against the wall and sat down again. He had been at work all day, and at last grew sleepy. Finally he nodded and snored.

Suddenly it seemed as if somebody touched him. He awoke with a start and saw nobody near, though in the centre of the room stood a white figure.

'Curse you get out of this!' he exclaimed in affright, using the first words that came to his tongue.

The figure held out his right arm and slowly approached him. He started to his feet. The spectre came nearer, pressing into the corner.

'The mischief take you!' cried Barney in his extremity.

Involuntary he stepped back; still the figure advanced, coming nearer and nearer as if to take him in ghostly embrace. The hair started up on Barney's head; he grew desperate and just as the gleaming arm would have touched him, he fell on the ghost like a whirlwind, tearing the sheet, thumping, pounding, beating and kicking, more and more enraged at the resistance he met, which told the truth.

As the readers know, he was big and Fritz was little; and while he was pummelling the little fellow terribly, and Fritz was trying to get a lunge at Barney's stomach, to take the wind out of him, both kicking and plunging like horses, they were petrified by hearing

☞ Ex-Governor Curtin and Col. John W. Forney, have been named for a position in Grant's Cabinet. Gen. Grant has not named his choice yet.

☞ THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.—We give a synopsis of the President's Message. It reads about like his other messages. How far the people think he is right in his "policy" can be judged by the result of the late elections.

☞ Our Congressman, Hon. D. J. Morrell, is at his post. On the first day he introduced a joint resolution requesting the President to re call Reverdy Johnson, minister to England. The resolution was finally referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

☞ The United States Senatorship struggle still continues. The President of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is said to be a prominent candidate. Mr. Scott continues to be spoken of favorably in every part of the State The party cannot do better than to elect Mr. Scott.

☞ THAT "FORGERY" AGAIN.—The editor of the Monitor "WE" will have it that we forged the name of J. S. Cornman to what "WE" of the Monitor endorsed in his own paper as the conditions of the compromise by which J. S. Cornman escaped trial and conviction for libel. Now if "WE" of the Monitor is not J. S. Cornman then the thing is a little mixed. If J. S. Cornman did not sign what we published, what did he sign? Perhaps he will be willing to give his readers more light upon the subject. That he signed his name upon the same piece of paper we will, perhaps not dispute, but we did not publish all that Mr. Cornman agreed to do to stop the suit. His fear that we might forge his name to a bank check is a good joke. A printer have money in a bank—that's good.

If Mr. Cornman would tell the truth in a few words, he would say that he was vexed because we, by publishing the agreement, informed our readers and Capt. Neely's party friends that the slanders published by the Monitor against him were false. Of course it was humiliating for "WE" of the Monitor to admit as much in justice to the Captain, but as "WE" had no ovidence, and Fort Bathurst was staring him in the face, he crawled out of the little end of the horn as best he could. We would advise our young friend "WE" to handle hot iron carefully.

FORTIETH CONGRESS.

ABSTRACT OF PROCEEDINGS.

The second session of the Fortieth Congress began on Monday at twelve o'clock. Including the delegation from Georgia, not yet sworn in, there are sixty-eight Senators, two hundred and twenty-six Representatives and eight Delegates. Virginia, Mississippi and Texas not being in the Union, are unrepresented. There is one seat vacant in Georgia and another in Kentucky, and the second Louisiana district is contested.

In the Senate forty-eight members were present. Mr. Sumner introduced bills establishing manhood suffrage is all the States, and providing for a resumption of specie payment on the 4th of July, 1869. Mr. Cragin, of N. H., offered a universal suffrage amendment to the Constitution. Senators Yates, of Illinois; Morrill, of Maine; and Frelinghuysen, of N. J., introduced bills amending the naturalization laws. A bill to abolish the ranks of General and Lieutenant General in the Army, and Admiral and Vice Admiral in the Navy, except so far as regards the persons who now hold them, was also introduced.——In the House 164 members answered to roll call. Bills and Constitutional amendments establishing universal suffrage in all the State; amending the naturalization laws, and providing for an early resumption of specie payments, were introduced by various members. Mr. Morrill offered a joint resolution censuring the conduct of Reverdy Johnson, Minister to England, and asking his recall. Bills to suppress the Ku-Klux-Klan, and to repeal the tenure of office bill were also introduced. The President informed both Houses that he would send in his message on Wednesday.

On Tuesday bills were introduced in the Senate continuing the Freedmen's Bureau in certain States; to abolish the Franking privilege; to remove political disabilities from certain ex-Rebels.——The House took up and passed a bill laid over from last session increasing the Tariff on Copper, by a vote of yeas 107, nays 51—Democrats voting in the negative. A bill to transfer the Indian Bureau to the War Department, in pursuance of the suggestions of Gens. Grant and Sherman, was also passed, yeas 116, nays 33.—An insulting communication was received from the Democratic Legislature of Oregon asking the Republican Senators of that State to resign. It was ordered to be returned as scandalous, impertinent and indecorous. Mr. Robinson, of New York, made a speech denouncing the imprisonment of certain American Fenians by Great Britain, and advocating an immediate declaration of war. The House adjourned at 4 p. m.

On Wednesday, in the Senate, Mr. Sumner introduced a bill "to carry out the Reconstruction acts in the State of Georgia." It declares the existing Government of Georgia to be provisional only, until it shall have complied with all the requirements of the Reconstruction acts, and ratifies the 4th Amendment. The Senate passed a bill relieving the political disabilities of Chief Justice Moses, of South Carolina. At 1 o'clock the President's message was received, but after reading a few extracts it was deemed so insulting and disrespectful to Congress that the further reading was dispensed with, and the Senate adjourned without hearing the remainder. Senator Connes, of Cal., having made a motion to dispense with the reading, and afterwards expressed a willingness to withdraw it—

Senator Cameron, (Rep.) Pa., said: If the motion is withdrawn I renew it. In this message the President has endeavored to make an unjust impression on the public mind. It is not his duty to lecture us, but to communicate such information as may be in his possession as to the actual condition of the country. In this message he does attempt to lecture us and I do not think it is in accordance with the dignity of the Senate that we should allow him to insult us in that way. This is the last opportunity he will have as President, of addressing himself to the people, and I am not willing that he should make us the channel through which to present to the public his misrepresentations and untruths.'—and the General carried his point.——In the House the message was in like manner denounced for its gross mis-statements of fact, and open recommendation of repudiation. Mr. Schenck, of Ohio, referring to the repudiation clause, said:

"I look upon that part of the message as the most gross, shameless, infamous proposition to repudiate the debt of the country that I have yet known to be put forward from any quarter, except it may be possibly in the columns of the paper of Brick Pomeroy."

—As a mark of contempt for the author the message was laid on the table without the usual reference to Committees, and no extra copies were ordered to be printed.

On Thursday, in the Senate, the several Committees were made up, and the Copper Tariff bill from the House was referred. The balance of the President's Message was read, and the portion recommending the repudiation of our national debt severely condemned.——The House passed a resolution for a recess from Dec. 21st to Jan. 5th. A number of new bills were introduced and referred. Both Houses adjourned over until Monday next.

Synopsis of the President's Message.

Fellow-Citizens of the Senate and House of Representatives:

Upon the re-assembling of Congress, it again becomes my duty to call your attention to the state of the Union, and to its continued disorganized condition under the various laws which have been passed upon the subject of Reconstruction.

Our own history—although embracing a period less than a century—affords abundant proof that most, if not all, of our domestic troubles are directly traceable to violations of the organic law and excessive legislation. The most striking illustrations of this fact are furnished by the enactments of the past three years upon the question of reconstruction. After a fair trial, they have substantially failed and proved pernicious in their results, and there seems to be no good reason why they should longer remain upon the statute-book. States to which the Constitution guarantees a republican form of government have been reduced to military dependencies, in each of which the people have been made subject to the arbitrary will of the commanding general. Although the Constitution requiries that each State shall be represented in Congress, Virginia, Mississippi and Texas are yet excluded from the two Houses, and contrary to the express provisions of that instrument, were denied participation in the recent election for a President and Vice President of the United States.

The attempt to place the white population under the domination of persons of color in the South has impaired, if not destroyed, the kindly relations that had previously existed between them; and mutual distrust has engendered a feeling of animosity which, leading in some instances to collision and bloodshed, has prevented that co-operation between the two races so essential to the success of industrial enterprises in the Southern States. Nor have the inhabitants of those States alone suffered from the disturbed condition of affairs growing out of these Congressional enactments. The entire Union has been agitated by grave apprehensions of troubles which might again involve the peace of the nation; its interests have been injuriously affected by the derangement of business and labor, and the consequent want of prosperity throughout that portion of the country.

Under the influence of party passion and sectional prejudice, acts have been passed not warranted by the Constitution. Congress, refusing to perfect the work so nearly consummated, declined to admit members from the unrepresented States, adopted a series of measures which arrested the progress of restoration, frustrated all that had been so successfully accomplished, and after three years of agitation and strife, has left the country farther from the attainment of union and fraternal feeling than at the inception of the Congressional plan of reconstruction. It needs no argument to show that legislation which has produced such baneful consequences should be abrogated, or else made to conform to the genuine principles of Republican government.

The population of the United States in 1790 was nearly four millions of people. Increasing each decade about thirty-three per cent., it reached in 1860 thirty-one millions—an increase of seven hundred per cent. on the population in 1790. In 1869 it is estimated that it will reach thirty-eight millions, or an increase of eight hundred and sixty-eight per cent. in seventy-nine years.

The annual expenditures of the Federal Government in 1791 were four millions two hundred thousand dollars; in 1820, eighteen million two hundred thousand dollars; in 1850, forty-one millions; in 1860, sixty-three millions; in 1865, nearly thirteen hundred millions, and in 1869 it is estimated by the Secretary of the Treasury in his last annual report, that they will be three hundred and seventy-two millions.

These startling facts clearly illustrate the necessity of retrenchment in all branches of the public services. Abuses which were tolerated during the war for the preservation of the nation will not be endured by the people, now that profound peace prevails. The receipts from internal revenue and customs have, during the past three years, gradually diminished, and the continuance of useless and extravagant expenditures will involve us in national bankruptcy, or else make inevitable an increase of taxes, already too onerous, and in many respects obnoxious on account of their inquisitorial character. One hundred millions annually are expended for the military force, a large portion of which is employed in the execution of laws both unnecessary and unconstitutional; one hundred and fifty millions are required each year to pay the interest on the public debt; an army of tax gatherers impoverishes the nation; and public agents, placed by Congress beyond the control of the Executive, divert from their legitimate purposes large sums of money which they collect from the people in the Government. Judicious legislation and prudent economy can alone remedy defects and avert evils which, if suffered to exist, cannot fail to diminish confidence in the public councils, and weaken the attachment and respect of the people towards their political institutions. Without proper care the small balance which it is estimated will remain in the Treasury, at the close of the present fiscal year, will not be realized, and additional millions be added to a debt which is now enumerated by billions.

It would seem but just and equitable that the six per cent. interest now paid by the Government should be applied to the reduction of the principal in semi-annual instalments, which in sixteen years and eight months, would liquidate the entire national debt. Six per cent. in gold would at present rates be equal to nine per cent. in currency, and equivalent to the payment of the debt one and a half times in a fraction less than seventeen years. This, in connection with all the other advantages derived from their investment, would afford to the public creditors a fair and liberal compensation for the use of their capital, and with this they should be satisfied. The lessons of the past admonish the lender that it is not well to be over anxious in exacting from the borrower rigid compliance with the letter of the bond. If provision be made for payment of the indebtedness of the Government in the manner suggested, our nation will rapidly recover its wonted prosperity.

If depreciated paper is to be continued as the permanent currency of the country, and all our coin is to become a mere article of traffic and speculation, to the enhancement in price of all that is indispensable to the comfort of the people, it would be wise economy to abolish our mints, thus saving the nation the care and exposnes incident to such establishments, and let all our precious metals be exported in bullion. The time has come, however, when the Government and national banks should be required to take the most efficient steps and make all necessary arrangements for a resumption of specie payments. Let specie payments once be earnestly inaugurated by the Government and banks, and the value of the paper circulation would directly approximate a specie standard.

The Secretary of the Interior reviews the operations of the Land Office, Pension Office, Patent Office, and the Indian Bureau.

During the first fiscal year ending June 30, 1868, six million six hundred and fifty-five thousand seven hundred acres of public land were disposed of. The entire cash receipts of the General Land Office for the same period were $1,632,715, being greater by $284,883 than the amount realized from the same sources during the previous year. The entries under the homestead law cover two million three hundred and twenty eight thousand nine hundred and twenty-three acres, nearly one-fourth of which was taken under the act of June 21, 1866, which applies only to the States of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Florida.

Treaties with various Indian tribes have been concluded, and will be submitted to the Senate for its constitutional action. I cordially sanction the stipulations which provide for reserving lands for the various tribes, where they may be encouraged to abandon their nomadic habits and engage in agricultural and industrial pursuits.—This is the only mode by which collisions with other tribes and with the whites can be avoided, and the safety of our frontier settlements secured.

The companies constructing the railway from Omaha to Sacramento have been most energetically engaged in prosecuting the work, and it is believed that the line will be completed before the expiration of the next fiscal year. The six per cent. bonds issued to these companies amounted, on the 5th inst., to $44,337,000, and additional work had been performed to the extent of $3,200,000.

The Secretary of the Interior in August last invited my attention to the report of a Government director of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, who had been specially instructed to examine the location, construction and equipment of their road. I submitted for the opinion of the Attorney General certain questions in regard to the authority of the Executive which arose upon this report, and those which had from time to time been presented by the commissioner appointed to inspect each successive section of the work. After carefully considering the law of the case, he affirmed the right of the Executive to order, if necessary, a thorough revision of the entire road. Commissioners were thereupon appointed to examine this and other lines, and have recently submitted a statement of their investigations, of which the report of the Secretary of the Interior furnishes specific information.

The report of the Secretary of War contains information of interest and importance respecting the several Bureaus of the War Department and the operations of the army. The strength of our military force, on the 30th of September last, was forty-eight thousand men, and it is computed that, by the first of January next, this number will be decreased to forty-three thousand. It is the opinion of the Secretary of War that within the next year a considerable diminution of the infantry forces may be made without detriment to the interests of the country; and in view of the great expense attending the military peace establishment, and the absolute necessity of retrenchment wherever it can be applied, it is hoped that Congress will sanction the reduction which his report recommends.

The report of the Secretary of the Navy exhibits the operations of that department and of the navy during the year. A considerable reduction of the force has been effected. There are forty-two vessels, carrying four hundred and eleven guns, in the six squadrons which are established in different parts of the world. The total number of vessels in the navy is two hundred and six, mounting seventeen hundred and forty-three guns. Eighty-one vessels of every description are in use, armed with six hundred and ninety-six guns. The number of enlisted men in the service, including apprentices, has been reduced to eight thousand five hundred. An increase of navy yard facilities is recommended, as a measure which will, in the event of war, be productive of economy and security. The expenditures of the department during the last fiscal year were $20,120,894, and the estimates for the coming year amount to $20,993,414.

The Postmaster General's report furnishes a full and clear exhibit of the operations and condition of the postal service. The ordinary postal revenue for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1868, was $16,292,600, and the total expenditures, embracing all the service for which special appropriations have been made by Congress amounted to $23,730,582, showing an excess of expenditures of $6,437,991. Deducting from the expenditures the sum of $1,896,525, the amount of appropriations for ocean steamship and other special service, the excess of expenditures was $5,541,466. By using an unexpended balance in the Treasury of $3,800,000, the actual sum for which a special appropriation is required to meet the deficiency is $741,466. The causes which produced this large excess of expenditure over revenue were the restoration of service in the late insurgent States and the putting into operation of new service established by acts of Congress, which amounted, within the last two years and a half, to about 48,700 miles—equal to more than one third of the whole amount of the service at the close of the war. New postal conventions with Great Britain, North Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, Switzerland, and Italy, respectively, have been carried into effect. Under the provisions important improvements have resulted in reduced rates of international postage, and enlarged mail facilities with European countries.—The cost of the United States transAtlantic ocean mail service since January 1, 1868, has been largely lessened under the operation of those new conventions, a reduction of over one-half having been effected under the new arrangement for ocean mail steamship service which went into effect on that date.

No important question has occurred during the last year in our accustomed cordial and friendly intercourse with Costa Rica, Guatemala, Honduras, San Salvador, France, Austria, Belgium, Switzerland, Portugal, the Netherlands, Denmark, Sweden and Norway, Greece, Turkey, Persia, India, Liberia, Morocco, Tripoli, Tunis, Muscat, Siam, Borneo, and Madagascar.

Cordial relations have also been maintained with the Argentine and the Oriental Republics. The expressed wish of Congress that our national good offices might be tendered to those republics, and also to Brazil and Paraguay, for bringing to an end the calamitous war which has so long been raging in the valley of La Plata, has been assiduously complied with, and kindly acknowledged by the belligerents. That important negotiation, however, has thus far been without result.

Charles A. Washburn, late United States Minister to Paraguay, having resigned, and being desirous of returning to the United States, the Rear Admiral commanding the South Atlantic Squadron was early directed to send a ship-of-war to Ascunsion, the capital of Paraguay, to receive Mr. Washburn and his family, and remove them from a situation which was represented to be endangered by faction and foreign war. The Brazilian commander of the allied invading forces refused permission to the Wasp to pass through the blockading forces, and that vessel returned to its accustomed anchorage. Remonstrance having been made against this refusal, it was promptly overruled, and the Wasp therefore resumed her errand, received Mr. Washburn and family, and conveyed them to a safe and convenient seaport. In the meantime an excited controversy had arisen between the President of Paraguay and the late United States Minister, which it is understood grew out of his proceedings in giving asylum in the United States legation to alleged enemies of that republic. The question of the right to give asylum is one always difficult, and often productive of great embarassment In States well organised and established, foreign powers refuse to concede or exercise that right, except as to persons actually belonging to the diplomatic service. On the other hand, all such powers insist upon exercising the right of asylum in States where the law of nations is not fully acknowledged, respected and obeyed. The President of Paraguay is understood to have opposed to Mr. Washburne's proceedings the injurious and very improbable charge of personal complicity in insurrection and treason. The correspondence, however, has not yet reached the United States.

Our relations during the past year with Bolivia, Ecuador, Peru and Chile have become especially friendly and cordial. Spain and the Republics of Peru, Bolivia and Ecuador have expressed their willingness to accept the mediation of the United States for terminating the war upon the South Pacific coast. Chile has not finally declared upon the question.

Comprehensive national policy would seem to sanction the acquisition and incorporation into our Federal Union of the several adjacent continental and insular communities as speedily as it can be done peacefully, lawfully, and without any violation of national justice, faith and honor. Foreign possession or control of those communities has hitherto hindered the growth and impaired the influence of the United States Chronic revolution and anarchy there would be equally injurious. Each one of them, when firmly established as an independent republic or when incorporated into the United States, would be a new source of strength and power.

It cannot be long before it will become necessary for this Government to lend some effective aid to the solution of the political and social problems which are continually kept before the world by the two republics of the island of St. Domingo, and which are now disclosing themselves more distinctly than heretofore in the island of Cuba. The subject is commended to your consideration with all the more earnestness because I am satisfied that the time has arrived when even so direct a proceeding as a proposition for an annexation of the two republics of the island of St. Domingo would not only receive the consent of the people interested, but would also give satisfaction to all other foreign nations.

We are not advised of the action of the Chinese Government upon the liberal and auspicious treaty which was recently celebrated with its plenipotentiaries at this capital.

Japan remains a theatre of civil war, marked by religious incidents and political severities peculiar to that long isolated empire. The Executive has hitherto maintained strict neutrality among the belligerents, and acknowledge with pleasure that it has been frankly and fully sustained in that course by the enlightened concurrence and co-operation of the other treaty powers, namely, Great Britain, France, the Netherlands, North Germany and Italy.

Spain having recently undergone a revolution marked by extraordinary unanimity and preservation of order, the Provisional Government established at Madrid has been recognized, and the friendly intercourse which has so long happily existed between the two countries remains unchanged.

I renew the recommendation contained in my communication to Congress dated the 18th of July last—a copy of which accompanies this message—that the judgment of the people should be taken on the propriety of so amending the Federal Constitution that it shall provide:

First. For an election of President and Vice President by a direct vote of the people, instead of through the agency of electors, and making them ineligible for re-election to a second term.

Second. For a distinct designation of the person who shall discharge the duties of President, in the event of a vacancy in that office by the death, resignation, or removal of both the President and Vice President.

Third. For the election of Senators of the United States directly by the people of the several States, instead of by the Legislatures; and Fourth. For the limitation to a period of years of the terms of Federal judges.

Profoundly impressed with the propriety of making these important modifications in the Constitution, I respectfully submit them for the early and mature consideration of Congress. In Congress are vested all legislative powers, and upon them devolves the responsibility as well for framing unwise and excessive laws, as for neglecting to devise and adopt measures absolutely demanded by the wants of the country. Let us earnestly hope that before the expiration of our respective terms of service, now rapidly drawing to a close, an all wise Providence will so guide our counsels as to strengthen and preserve the Federal Union, inspire reverence for the Constitution, restore prosperity and happiness to our whole people, and promote "on earth peace, good will toward men." ANDREW JOHNSON.

Washington, Dec. 9, 1868.

Speeches of Grant and Farragut.

Gen. Grant and Admiral Farragut were entertained by the Union League Club, New York, with a grand dinner and reception at their Club Room on last Tuesday evening. In reply to a toast—"Our Guest, the General of the Army and President elect."—General Grant favored his entertainers with the longest speech he has yet made, which short as it is, abounds in good sound, common sense. Gen. Grant said:

Gentlemen of the Union League:—It is with extreme regret that I find myself unable to respond in appropriate language to the warmth of my feeling with which this toast has been received. You all know how unaccustomed I am to public speaking, (hearty laughter and applause,) how undesirable a talent I think it is to possess, how little good it generally does (renewed laughter and cheers,) and how desirous I am to see more of our public men follow the good example which I believe, in this particular, if in no other, I have set them, I need not say. (Tremendous applause.) I must, however, express my acknowledgments to the Union League of this city, as well as to the Union League of other cities, for the great benefits they conferred upon the Government during the Rebellion through which we have passed of late years. I wish to acknowledge the liberality toward myself and toward the soldiers serving against the Rebellion, and to thank them for it.

Admiral Farragut was next toasted: "Our Navy and its Great Admiral."—The gallant Admiral responded as follows:

Gentlemen of the Union League:—I rise simply to return my thanks of the Navy of the United States, being its appropriate representative on this occasion. But for fear of trespassing upon the new doctrine laid down by the President of short speeches, (laughter and applause,) I will simply assure you that I not only feel grateful for you recollections of the Navy during the war as well as on the present occasion and the compliment you have paid it, but for the more solid benefits I have received at your hands.

—The response of the Admiral was also greeted with vociferous cheering.

Brief Items.

The days have begun to lengthen.

Who wants the barrel of Extra Family Flour?

The steamer Etna netted its owners over $800 last season.

The Altoona Tribune and Johnstown Democrat talk of enlarging.

The Teachers' Institute is now in session in this place.

Who wants the $15 Family Bible?

Dr. DeWitt Zeigler, dentist, has left Ebensburg and stuck out his shingle in Philipsburg, Centre county.

Some of the young folks were out slaying (sleighing) themselves last week.

A little son of Wm. Kistler, of Perry county, was instantly killed recently by a log rolling over him.

Toys and Confectionery, and Fancy Articles by the car load, for sale cheap at Massey & Co's Variety Store.

Our columns are crowded somewhat with advertisements this week, and also the President's Message, as you will readily see.

Mrs. Mary Mayes, wife of Albert Mayes, took sick and died very suddenly at Siglerville, Mifflin county, night last week.

The season for shooting deer expires on the 1st of January. The ladies' season for catching dears expires the same day.

Who wants the Elephant?

The Lewistown Gazette suggests that a circular hunt be gotten up by Christmas or New Year's to bag the wolves and bears that infest Mifflin county.

Mr. Thomas Roberts, the Scotch Temperance lecturer, will deliver another free lecture at the Court House, next Saturday evening. Go and hear him.

Our benedictino friend, Mr. George Warfel, has our thanks for a share of his wedding cake. George is a good fellow, and we wish him a long life of matrimonial happiness.

A tailor named J. Rudell decamped from his boarding house in Hollidaysburg with a watch and some small change from his landlady and some goods from his employer, last week.

Mr. Jacob Yost, of Carroll township, came into the office of the Cambria Freeman to settle for subscription.—He is in his 80th year, and has lived 65 years in Cambria county.

Who wants the pair of Bantam Chickens?

Almost every newspaper publisher who has anything to say about himself at all, says: "We have a great deal of money outstanding on our books"—Such money, we fear, will continue to stand out against all your pleadings. Why is this thus?

Several newspapers have declaimed against customers postponing their purchase of Christmas presents until a day before Christmas. The advice is good, for buyers on that late day have longer to wait, and generally pay higher prices, while the seller is overpressed with work which could be attended to better if the sales should begin at once.

If you don't mean to give your attention to your business, it won't pay to advertise. You must have a good stock of meritorious articles if you want your advertisement to pay you The advertisement in the newspaper will draw you the custom at first, but the merits of the article sold and its cheapness will secure a continuance of patronage.

Mr. R. Stockett Mathews delivered an instructive lecture in the Court House on Friday evening last. The audience was not very large, and the speaker did not acquit himself as well as he would have done had he not looked at his manuscript so closely.—The proceeds, after paying the lecturer, netted $20, which goes to paying the expenses of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Who wants the mammoth Mintstick.

Supposed Swindlers.

For several weeks past two men from New York State have been selling patent rights for the sale and manufacture of hay forks. On Wednesday last one of the men came to Mr. Joseph Shoemaker and asked him to purchase, at the same time showing him a note he had received from Mr. McCracken of Stone Valley for $280. Mr. Shoemaker suspecting that something was wrong rode out the same evening to Mr. McCracken's residence, and ascertained from him that he had given no such note. Mr. Shoemaker returned, and the next day the patent right agents were arrested upon suspicion, and made to give bail for their appearance at Court.

Where Does Your Patronage Go?

Some four or five weeks ago a Philadelphia firm offered us fifty dollars if we would agree to influence our readers through our local editorial columns to go to or send to the city for clothing, to the injury of our own dealers in this place and county. We refused the offer, believing it to be the first duty of a paper supported by the business men of a town and county, to protect their interests against foreign competition. Business men out of our county can advertise in our columns as freely as they please, but they must not expect to use us editorially to the injury of our business men and our people generally If you desire to build up a town, or make business successful in any part of your county, you must help one another. Keep your money circulating in your own town or neighborhood as long as you can—it may pass through your hands several times But send it to the city and the merchants or mechanic's profits are lost to you forever.

110 LISPENARD ST.,
NEW YORK, October 13, 1867.

DEAR SIR:—It is with much pleasure that I say to you that I consider the Plantation Bitters of untold value. In the fall of 1867 I was taken with the Chills and Fever, with the most severe pains in my chest and head. It was with great difficulty that I could breathe. My lungs were greatly distressed, and there was severe pain in my right side, by spells. I could hardly get up from my bed. I called a Doctor, who attended me all winter without the least benefit. About the first of August, I commenced using your Plantation Bitters—a wine glass full three times a day—and have used it most of the time since, and I am now well and strong, able to do all my own work and the care of a large family. Yours, &c.,

It SUSAN WILSON.

DIED,

On the 1st inst., LAURA, daughter of James and Louisa S. Simpson, aged 2 years, 10 months and 1 day.

At Huntingdon, on the 2d inst., Mrs. JULIA M. MILES, wife of John G Miles, Esq.

Mrs. Miles was born at Blockley, at the country seat of her father. Mrs Miles was born on the 10th of September, 1793. She was the only daughter of Major Matthew McConnell, who served with distinction in the war of the Revolution, from 1775 to the disbanding of the army in 1783, except when disabled from active duty in the field in consequence of a severe wound received in the battle of Brandywine. Her mother, Ruth Hall, resided at Philadelphia during the Revolution, where she and her sister so distinguished themselves in their exertions to relieve our suffering soldiers that they received the thanks of the Continental Congress. Mrs. Miles was, in many respects, a remarkable woman, possessed of great energy, with a fine intellect and cultivated taste; sprightly and genial in conversation. There was a charm in her society which was exceedingly attractive; her leading characteristic was unselfishness; her heart was always open to any appeal from the poor or suffering, and she was always foremost in all the benevolent enterprises, especially those of the Presbyterian Church, of which, for more than a quarter of a century, she was a consistent member. During the Rebellion she took a lively interest in the welfare of our soldiers, and as a member of the "Aid Society" rendered efficient service. Her reading, especially in early life, was extensive and thorough, and having an extraordinary memory, there was scarcely an important event in history, of which she could not give a detailed and satisfactory account, correct in dates and every important particular. Since the year 1824 she has resided with her husband in Huntingdon. She was the mother of seven children—three of whom survive her. One of her sons—John Blanchard—the Colonel of the 49th P. V., was killed at Spottsylvania on the 10th of May, 1864. The last years of her life were years of bodily infirmity and suffering, which she bore with Christian fortitude. She died without pain and is gone it is humbly trusted, to be forever with the Lord.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

CAUSE AND EFFECT.

Colds are the effect of obstructed perspiration. The symptoms are so generally understood, that nothing need be said on that point. But colds are easily taken, and unless great care is exercised a second cold will often be contracted or in other words, settle from into another, and a continued cough ensues, bringing on straining and racking of the lungs, and the production of tubercles Although many thousands of persons are drifting through these symptoms towards pulmonary diseases of a dangerous character, yet the majority think that they are troubled with nothing but an ordinary cold, which will remedy itself and pass away. Fatal delusion —the rock on which many a life has been lost. See to it at once that your cold is attended to. Use MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS, the most potent remedy ever discovered for Colds and Coughs, and a certain protection against the danger of taking them, if it is used regularly two or three times a day as a tonic. dec16-bo4.

PAINTS FOR FARMERS AND OTHERS.—The Grafton Mineral Paint Company are now manufacturing the Best, Cheapest and most Durable Paint in use; two coats well put on, mixed with pure Linseed Oil, will last ten or fifteen years; it is of a light brown or beautiful chocolate color, and can be changed to green, lead, stone, drab, olive or cream, to suit the taste of the consumer. It is valuable for Houses, Fences, Barns, Carriage and Car makers, Pails and Wooden-ware, Agricultural Implements, Canal Boats, Vessels and Ships' Bottoms, Canvas, Metal and Shingle Roofs. (it being Fire and Water proof.) Flour Oil Cloths, (one Manufacturer having used 5,000 bbls. the past year) and as a paint for any purpose is unsurpassed for body, durability, elasticity and adhesiveness. Price $6 per bbl. of 300 lbs., which will supply a farmer for years to come. Warranted in all cases as above. Send for a circular which gives full particulars. None genuine unless branded in a trade mark, Grafton Mineral Paint. Persons can order the Paint and remit the money on receipt of the goods. Address

NEW

LEATHER STORE.

THE undersigned would respectfully announce that, in connection with

The Rich and the Poor.

In his struggle with the world, the great aim of every man is to reach a condition of easy circumstances. That is, he wants to secure the comfort of himself and his family. He cannot exactly define the point which he is aiming at, but his mind is bent upon a condition of freedom from the anxiety that constantly oppresses him with regard to the future. This is a noble ambition; but how small a proportion of all who struggle for it, are rewarded with success. What proportion, in our own city, reach that stage where they are no longer haunted by the spectre of want? A very small proportion. The figures show that of the million inhabitants of New York three-fourths live in tenement houses. It is safe to say that at least as large a proportion as that live and die without attaining the object for which they struggle. The other fourth of the population fare in easy circumstances.—Destitution is unknown to them, they feel no anxiety about the future, they live at ease and enjoy life. This is all very well, but of this well-to do class there is a certain proportion who hold many times more wealth than is necessary for even the most luxurious style of living. We can name a hundred men here in New York whose aggregate wealth is not less than one thousand million dollars. Now what proportion of that vast sum, or even the interest of it, can those hundred men use for themselves, and their families. Only a mere fraction. The bulk of their wealth is hoarded, growing every day by money wrung from the poor in the shape of rents, &c. Their wealth, which might make every family in New York comfortable and happy, is kept in this narrow circle, doing no good to the world, and only enabling a comparatively few persons to live like kings. What would that thousand millions do if it were equally distributed among the people of this city? It would give a thousand dollars to every man, woman and child. It would give six thousand dollars to every family. It would place in easy circumstances every family in New York that is now below that standard. But not a dollar of it will be distributed. The hundred rich families will go on hoarding their wealth, and in the winter time we shall still hear of suffering, destitution and death as the result of poverty—this, too, almost in sight of the palaces of the millionaires. Is it just that one man should be the possessor of millions, while another, as good and worthy as he, would starve for want of enough to buy bread?—New York Star.

THE CHEMISTRY OF FURNITURE.—Young housekeepers do not always understand the theory of the chemical and mechanical action of different substances on articles of furniture. The substances from which furniture is chiefly exposed to injury are water, oils, alcohol and acids. Acids act on marble. Marble is itself composed of carbonate of lime; that is, it is a compound of carbonic acid and lime. Now the carbonic acid has a comparatively weak affinity for lime, and most other acids will prevail over it and take its place when brought in contact with it, thus destroying the texture of the stone, liberating the carbonic acid, and leaving nitrate of lime, or muriate of lime, or sulphate, or acetate of lime, as the case may be, in the form of a white powder, in its place. But oils, alcohols and water produce no effect on marble. All varnished or polished surfaces of wood, on the other hand, while not injured by acids, are attacked by alcohol.

Varnishes are composed of different gums and rosins, which are generally soluble in alcohol. Many of them are made by dissolving the materials in alcohol so as to liquify them, and then, when they are applied, the alcohol evaporates, leaving the gum or rosin a thin, even coating over the surface.—If now any alcoholic substance comes upon such a surface, whether it be alcohol itself, as used for lamps, or spirits of any kind, or even wine, which contains but a small per centage of alcohol, a portion of it is dissolved, and the brilliancy of the surface is destroyed. Oils will not attack either marbles or varnished surfaces, and will do no injury except to naked wood or other porous substances which admit them into the pores, from which they cannot afterward be easily expelled. Water affects no substances except such as have open pores exposed, in which case it enters and causes the substance to swell, or such as are soluble in water, as glue in joints, and mucilage or gum arabic, used sometimes for attaching superficial ornaments to fancy work.

☞"The iron interest of Chicago employs fifteen thousand men, to whom is paid the yearly sum of $12,000,000 for their labor; $5,000,000 is invested in the manufacture of iron, which does a business of about $25,000,000 per annum. The number of iron establishments in the city amounts to one hundred, which are engaged in the manufacture of axes, boilers, cutlery, dirks, derricks, engines, edge tools, farm implements, gauges, gearing, hoes, horse nails, iron joints, keys, lathes, lightning rods, mining machinery, mowers, mouldings, needles, nails, ordinance, plate and pig-iron, picks, plough points, quadrants, ranges, stoves, shovels, tacks, tanks, utensils of all kinds, size, and value.

☞The plate glass constituting one side of the great lantern at the top of the Boston light-house, was recently broken into fragments by a shell-drake duck. The little winged wanderer was probably flying at a great speed, and being attracted by the light, precipitated itself against the glass, and the concussion brought its career to a sudden and untimely close. The glass broken was more than a quarter of an inch thick, and it is impossible to replace the pane that was summarily displaced, with glass equally thick, purchased in Boston. The duck which achieved this feat, although his bones were broken, had no contusions on the exterior of his body.

A Vermont editor writes obituary notices of delinquent subscribers, and in this way brings them to life. We hope our delinquents are not dead, but indeed we would like if they would send us their—their respects, or come in and give us their—their hand and ask us "how-d-ye do?"

☞Without consent we shall find it almost as difficult to please others as ourselves.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

SPANISH HAIR DRESSER

FOR PROMOTING THE GROWTH, BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR,

And rendering it dark and glossy. No other compound possesses the peculiar properties which so exactly suit the various conditions of the human hair. The use of this oil as a hair dresser has been universal in every section of the country in the Spanish Main for centuries.—No preparation of art could give that elegant luxuriance and abundance of hair which have so often been the admiration of travelers in Spain. This oil is highly and delicately perfumed, forming an article unrivaled in excellence and upon which the Spanish people for many years have set its seal of enduring approval.
